DETAILED ACTION

Newly submitted claim 7 is directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons:

Inventions I (Claims 1-6) and II (Claim 7) are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of Group I can be used to express genes of interest in cells in culture.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claim 7 is withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1, 2, 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Brandt et al. (Cited by applicants).

Both applicants and Brandt et al. (J. Virol., Jan. 2001, Vol. 75, No. 2, pp. 850-856, see whole article, particularly the Abstract, Fig. 1 and pp. 853-854) recite an expression vector (which can be in a carrier) comprising a vaccinia virus with reduced pathogenicity in an animal host which comprises a deletion in the E3L gene (both Brandt et al. and applicants recite deletions in the carboxy-terminal portion of the protein) and wherein the vector further comprises exogenous DNA (which can encode an antigen such as  $\beta$ -galactosidase) operably linked to regulatory elements that control expression of said exogenous DNA. Brandt et al. also recites a method for making a recombinant gene product comprising subjecting said vaccinia expression vector to conditions whereby the exogenous gene product is expressed. Brandt et al. therefore teaches the claimed invention.

No Claims are allowed.

Claims 3 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
